Civil Rights Compliance in The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) and the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP)

Oklahoma Department of Human Services (DHS) Food Distribution Programs
What is TEFAP?

- The Emergency Food Assistance Program helps supplement the diets of low-income Americans, including elderly people, by providing them with emergency food and nutrition assistance at no cost through food pantries and soup kitchens.

- The USDA makes food commodities available to the States, which receive the food and supervise overall distribution of the food commodities to eligible recipient agencies.

- Eligible recipient agencies are public or private nonprofit organizations that provide food and nutrition assistance to the needy through the distribution of food for home use or the preparation of meals.
What is CSFP?

- The Commodity Supplemental Food Program works to improve the health of elderly people at least 60 years of age by supplementing their diets with nutritious USDA commodity foods.
- Under CSFP, the USDA purchases food and makes it available to the States, along with funds for administrative costs.
- The States then store the foods and distribute it to public and non-profit private local agencies.
What are Civil Rights?

Civil Rights are the non-political rights of a citizen; the rights of personal liberty guaranteed to U.S. citizens by the 13th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution and by acts of Congress.
What is Discrimination?

The act of distinguishing one person or group of persons from others, either intentionally, by neglect, or by the effect of actions or lack of actions based on their protected classes.
What is a Protected Class?

- Any person or group of people who have characteristics for which discrimination is prohibited based on a law, regulation, or executive order.

- Protected classes in TEFAP & CSFP are:
  - Race
  - Color
  - National Origin
  - Age
  - Sex, and
  - Disability

Assurances

To qualify for Federal financial assistance, written assurance that the program will be operated in a nondiscriminatory manner must be included in all agreements between agencies.
Compliance Reviews

- The Oklahoma CSFP and TEFAP Programs are evaluated by USDA Food and Nutrition Services (FNS) every 3 years through the Management Evaluation Process.
- As a part of this evaluation, the State Office and selected local offices/sites are evaluated by USDA on areas under review which may include compliance with civil rights policies, laws and regulations.
- A written report is provided by USDA and the State Office is required to submit a corrective action plan outlining actions taken to resolve any issues identified as a finding. The State Office must follow up with the local office/site to ensure the issue has been corrected.
Compliance Review

The purpose of a compliance review is to determine if the applicant or recipient agency of Federal financial assistance is in compliance with Civil Rights requirements.

Reviews can be completed:

- Pre-award
- Post-award
- Special
Routine Compliance Reviews

- This is a desk or on-site civil rights review conducted after an organization has been authorized to receive Federal financial assistance to ensure:
  - Prominent display “And Justice for All” poster
  - Providing annual Civil Rights training for staff/volunteers
  - Procedure in place to handle Civil Rights complaints
  - Non-discrimination statement on all printed materials and websites
  - Providing outreach materials to reach all eligible populations, once every two years
  - Meeting the requirement for persons with disabilities, reasonable accommodations, and limited English proficiency (LEP).
Routine Compliance Review

Questions

❖ Is USDA’s “And Justice For All” poster prominently displayed where it can be seen by applicants, participants and visitors?

❖ Have Civil Rights training and complaint procedures been provided to persons dispensing commodities?

❖ Do potentially eligible persons have an equal opportunity to participate?

❖ Does the agency publicize that it provides services to all persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex or disability?
Routine Compliance Review

Questions

❖ Is the non-discrimination statement included on all materials that describe TEFAP & CSFP?
❖ Has the agency established a public notification system to inform the underprivileged, minorities, and grassroots organizations of TEFAP, their food distribution location and times, and civil rights complaint procedures?
❖ Is the facility accessible to the disabled?
❖ Is assistance available for person that have limited English proficiency?
❖ Has the organization received any civil rights complaints? If yes, were they handled properly? Are the organization’s procedures adequate?
Resolution of Noncompliance

Definition of “Noncompliance”

A factual finding that any civil rights requirement as provided by law, regulation, policy, instruction, or guidelines, is not being adhered to by a State agency, local agency, or other subrecipient.
Resolution of Noncompliance

- Steps must be taken immediately to obtain voluntary compliance

- Effective date of the finding of noncompliance is the date of notice to the State agency, local agency, or other subrecipient
What is Limited English Proficiency (LEP)?

Definition of LEP Persons:
Individuals who do not speak English as their primary language and who have a limited ability to read, speak, write, or understand English.

- All organizations receiving Federal financial assistance have a responsibility to take reasonable steps to ensure “meaningful” access to their programs and activities by persons with LEP.
Limited English Proficiency (LEP)

“Reasonable Steps” are contingent upon:

- The number or proportion of LEP persons eligible to be served or likely to be encountered by the program or recipient
- The frequency with which LEP individuals come in contact with the program
- The nature and importance of the program, activity, or service provided by the program to people’s lives
- The resources available to the recipient and costs. A shortage of resources does not eliminate the requirement for an agency to take reasonable steps
Limited English Proficiency (LEP)

Potential Cost Reduction Solutions:

• Using technological advances (i.e., translation devices on your computer or smart phone)
• Sharing of language assistance materials and services among and between recipients, advocacy groups and social service agencies (i.e. Department of Human Services)
• Where appropriate, training bi-lingual staff to act as interpreters and translators, telephonic and video conferencing interpretation services, or the formalized use of qualified community volunteers
• Standardizing documents to reduce translation needs

Paid interpreters, bilingual staff, and/or the use of a language line is the preferred method for meeting LEP requirements.
Limited English Proficiency (LEP)

- Children who are minors should not be used as interpreters
- Volunteers may be used, but make sure they understand confidentiality
- Prototype applications in other languages:
  http://www.fns.usda.gov/cnd/FRP/frp_process.html
- See www.lep.gov for more information
Limited English Proficiency (LEP)

Agencies that fail to provide services to LEP persons and applicants, or deny them access to TEFAP & CSFP may be discriminating on the basis of National Origin in violation of Title VI.
Reasonable Accommodations

- Ensure that people with disabilities can get into your agency from the parking lot, entrances, hall, elevators, restrooms, as well as allowing service animals.

- Arrange ways for people to get services. For example if your program is in the basement and you do not have an elevator, staff/volunteers should be available on the main floor.

- FedRelay Telecommunications Services to allow individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing, and/or have speech disabilities. www.gsa.gov/fedrelay
Customer Service: Making a Difference

- Treat all people with dignity and respect
- Answer questions in a voice that is non-threatening
- Clearly explain to everyone the rules as well as their rights and responsibilities
- Find and use tools and techniques to improve customer service.
- Recognize that participants have varied needs and (sometimes) few resources
Customer Service: Making A Difference

- Notice when a person feels they have been treated in a rude manner
- Develop good listening skills
- Learn to put yourself in their place when necessary
- Learn to deal with a dissatisfied customer
- Improve customer satisfaction
- Ask yourself, “Am I treating this person in the same manner I treat others?”
Conflict Resolution

Key Points

- Typically customers who are behaving in a difficult manner usually have not had their expectations met or do not fully understand the role of the worker.
- Often, the customer is focused on getting immediate assistance with solving a problem and does not feel the worker is helping.
- Generally, people do not want to be difficult or argumentative with a caring individual. The customer may not be aware of how their negative behavior is affecting others.
Conflict Resolution

- Communication components to defusing a difficult situation
  - Words
  - Tone of Voice
  - Body Language

- A combination of all three of these components when having face-to-face interactions with our customers. Each component “says” something to our customer.
Conflict Resolution

Tips for working with people during difficult situations:

- Remain calm
- State that you want to help and ask how you can be of assistance.
- Using information provided, determine what the issue is.
- Take time to try to understand the person’s point of view. Listen for details about the concern, situation, or request. Repeat the concern or request to make sure you understand the person’s expectations.
- When appropriate, apologize for the situation.
- Offer solutions. Take responsibility for finding a solution, or for putting a solution into action.
- Don’t take the situation personally.
- Follow up. Personally make sure that the customer has been satisfied; and provide feedback.
Conflict Resolution

- If you have tried to assist the person by providing the best customer service you can, and the person remains argumentative or outright abusive then do not allow yourself to be abused, and do not argue back. Keep your own sense of self-confidence, but still remain helpful.

- Anytime you feel that someone is truly physically threatening, get away from the person and call the Police.
